

RE: Global Free Flow of Information on the Internet

Never in the history of humankind has information been available so cheaply and so wide spread. It is a miracle and a boon to global consanguinity.

Think of all the poor uneducated serfs in the dark ages. Knowledge is such a bright light for people. Don't squelch it!

Do not truncate or impede the great free flow of information across the world. To do so is to truncate and impede humanity.
