Tab H: Factors that could Impact Fulfillment of Transition Plan

	Factor	Impact on Fulfillment of Transition Plan
1	Sensitive information that is not releasable to the public is excluded in this Transition Plan	While the specific frequency, system and location is not provided to the public, we have included a general location. We will share additional details with qualified bidders under a non-disclosure agreement. The redacted information will not impede fulfillment of the transition plan and should not have a significant impact on the auction since NPS will vacate in 24 months.

During the NPS transition, spectrum sharing within a 90km radius from the center of the District of Columbia (385340.0N, 770233.5W) requires coordination to prevent interference. Sharing beyond the 90 km radius should not require coordination.
